

Appearance-defined

Interface-bounded

— task average — one model: train → test contrast — its fill swap: significant gain — its fill swap: significant loss — its fill swap: not significant values per training → test contrast pair: supplementary tables relative = Δ Dice at the real-fill step $\div$ the panel's noise-fill Dice (the level the step starts from)