

Interface-bounded

Appearance-defined task average one model: train → test contrast its fill swap: significant gain its fill swap: significant loss its fill swap: not significant values per training → test contrast pair: supplementary tables relative = Δ Dice at the real-fill step ÷ the panel's noise-fill Dice (the level the step starts from)